

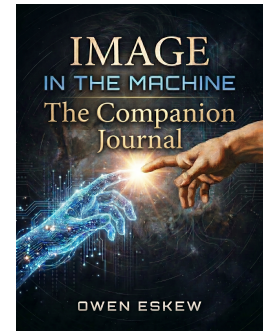

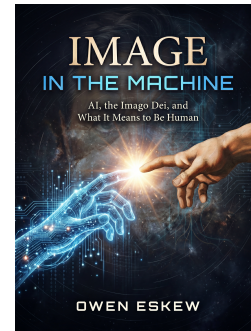

IMAGE IN THE MACHINE

Help your whole congregation answer the question of the decade: what does it mean to be human in the age of AI?

Your congregation is already being disciplined by their devices. Every member with a phone is in daily conversation with artificial intelligence, and almost nobody has given them a biblical frame for it. This campaign does, and it runs on hope instead of panic. It opens where the book opens: with Balaam's donkey, an ancient story about God speaking through an undignified instrument, preached the same week your people are talking to machines that talk back.

HOW THE CAMPAIGN WORKS

Every household receives the book and the companion journal. The pastor preaches a six-week arc through Part One. Small groups meet weekly for one journal session of 30 to 40 minutes: Scripture, a short meditation, and three writing prompts. Works for adults, students, and mixed groups.

WEEK 1	The Donkey in the Road	Why this moment demands the church's attention
WEEK 2	Four Ways of Being Human	What it means to bear the image of God
WEEK 3	What the Machine Actually Is	Plain-language clarity, no tech background needed
WEEK 4	Fearfully and Wonderfully Made	What building AI teaches us about ourselves
WEEK 5	The Restless Heart	What we are actually longing for
WEEK 6	Can a Machine Truly Care?	What genuine care requires: a natural invitation Sunday
